Peace Talks Await Debut of Pres. Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key members of the Senate and House say they doubt there will be much progress in breaking the deadlock at the Paris peace talks until President-elect Nixon takes office next month.

And interviews also showed that the high-level dispute in the Johnson administration over the position of the South Vietnamese government at the talks is reflected in Congress.

The No. 2 Democrat on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, John Sparkman of Alabama, said he thinks Hanoi may be holding back on settling some of the procedural disputes clogging the talks in the belief that anything done before Jan. 20 "might not have any finality."

A similar view came from Pennsylvania Republican Sen. Hugh Scott, who said he expects nothing substantial from Paris before Nixon's inauguration.

At most, he said, there might be an agreement on a token withdrawal of a few American and North Korean troops from South Vietnam.

Rep. E. Ross Adair of Indiana, who will be the top GOP member of the Foreign Relations Committee in the new Congress, said he thinks that very shortly after Nixon takes office, the parties in Paris will take a new look at the situation "and we will see a revitalization of the talks and some real progress can be made."

Two Republicans on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee criticized Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford for publicly pressuring the South Vietnamese government to get on with the talks, stymied for nearly two months by disputes over the shape of the conference table and other procedural issues.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, D., said he feels that statements by Clifford prodding the South Vietnamese government and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, its chief delegate in Paris, have set back efforts to reach an agreement on arrangements for peace talks.

Mundt, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, noted that Secretary of State Dean Rusk has not joined in the criticism Clifford has aimed at the Saigon government.

Rusk reportedly has been concerned lest the position of the South Vietnamese be weakened by expressions of annoyance and impatience with their actions by U.S. leaders.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, on his return from a trip to the Far East, deplored statements blaming the South Vietnamese government for lack of progress in Paris.

He said the Saigon regime "is steadfastly maintaining the very position we have always maintained—namely, that the National Liberation Front is merely a political and military arm of Hanoi."

But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana suggested that "There has been too much shilly-shallying over the start of actual negotiations in Paris and entirely too much time spent on the shape of tables and on a type of 'musical chairs', which seem to be the bone of contention," Mansfield said.

New Cold Wave Heads for State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U.S. Weather Bureau today issued a cold wave warning for Arkansas and predicted snow flurries throughout the night for most of the state.

The bureau said a bitter arctic cold front would push through the state from the northwest and blanket Arkansas by Tuesday morning.

The forecast called for light snow and snow flurries in all sections of the state, ending by Tuesday morning. The bureau predicted accumulations up to two inches in northern sections, up to one inch in Central Arkansas and no accumulation in the southern portion.

968 'Copters Are Lost in Vietnam War

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong shot down three more American helicopters over the weekend, raising to 968 the number of choppers reported lost in combat in South Vietnam.

As the American helicopter losses climbed, thousands of U.S. and South Vietnamese troops pushed ahead with 60 offensive operations, ignoring the start of a New Year's cease-fire proclaimed by the Viet Cong.

All three helicopters were shot down before the cease-fire started.

One was hit about 30 miles north of Saigon Saturday, killing two Americans and injuring two others. Another was hit Sunday in Tay Ninh Province, northwest of Saigon, and three men were injured. The third was shot down in the northern sector of the country, near Quang Ngai City, and one crewman was killed.

The Viet Cong broadcast an announcement that its forces began observing a 72-hour cease-fire at 1 a.m. Saigon time but warned they would strike back if attacked. South Vietnam and the United States said they would not observe a New Year's cease-fire this year because of alleged Viet Cong violations of the 24-hour Christmas truce.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported five enemy attacks on government bases after the start of the Viet Cong cease-fire. Most were shellings, and a spokesman said they caused only light casualties and no significant damage.

The U.S. Command said five 107mm rockets hit a base camp of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division about 40 miles northwest of Saigon this morning. U.S. casualties were "very light with no fatalities," a spokesman said. One Vietnamese civilian was wounded.

The U.S. Command also announced that it would send five representatives New Year's Day to a second meeting with the Viet Cong in an attempt to arrange for the release of three American prisoners of war who the Viet Cong announced before Christmas it would free.

The two groups will meet in a field 50 miles northwest of Saigon.

Radio Story Told Rotary by H. Jones

Haskell Jones, manager of radio station KXAR, was the featured speaker at the Hope Rotary Club last Friday in the Town and Country Restaurant. He said that the local radio station was 21 years old December 12, and one of its chief functions is to promote Hope. "We are now living in the Golden Days of Radio, despite reports to the contrary," Mr. Jones said.

KXAR has a pay roll of between 35 and 40 thousand dollars a year and has 10 to 12 thousand dollars worth of national advertising. Thus, this business, which employs 15 full-time or part-time people, is an important part of the community.

The annual year-end review of local business, agriculture, and industry is being heard over KXAR December 30-January 1, reminded the manager. He concluded his talk by playing excerpts from famous radio shows of the past and letting those present identify the voices. A question and answer period followed the talk.

The program was arranged by Floyd Leverett, and in his absence C.R. "Dick" Moore introduced the speaker. President Harold Eakley had charge of the business meeting and welcomed the members and two guests, Sydney McMath of Boston, Mass., and J.E. Pruden of Sidney, O.

Astronauts Get Down to Inevitable Paper Work of Government

By PAUL REGER

AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 8 astronauts engage in the first full day of intensive de-briefing on their flight today as space officials release part of the treasure they brought back—color views unseen before of the earth and the moon.

Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. William A. Anders are set to talk into tape recorders about their half-million mile voyage around the moon and back.

The trio, meeting with flight training specialists, will go over their mission "event by event in considerable detail," a space official said. They will follow the same scheduled for nine of the next 10 days, talking with groups ranging from scientists to fellow astronauts.

Each word will be recorded, transcribed and prepared for a final report.

Their only break will come New Year's Day.

"That'll be their first day off in many, many weeks," an official said.

The astronauts arrived at 3 a.m. EST Sunday and had their first intensive de-briefing session less than 12 hours later.

They were flown here from the aircraft carrier Yorktown via Hawaii. They had spent a day on the carrier after helicopters plucked them from the mid-Pacific at the end of their moon-orbiting mission.

Their spacecraft was taken to Honolulu by the Yorktown where it will undergo Navy tests before being flown to the North American Rockwell Co. plant at Downey, Calif., for closer examination.

Twelve pictures taken by the Apollo 8 crew en route and around the moon—part of the scientific treasure they gathered in their six-day flight—were released Sunday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Two of the color pictures of the earth were taken as the spacecraft was in orbit or near the moon. They show the earth as a glowing sapphire half-disc with wisps of clouds streaking the deep blue.

One view, taken as the spacecraft was en route to the moon, shows continents on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean. The West brown patch surrounded by clouds. The east coast of South America is shrouded with clouds. The edge of darkness stands out as sunset moves across Africa.

Another picture shows most of the southern United States, with the Florida Peninsula standing out as if on a global map.

A huge swirl of clouds covers the North Atlantic and beyond is the curve of the earth. Shallow waters in the Caribbean stand out as a greenish blue while the deeper waters are shades of tan or black.

A picture of the earth taken from lunar orbit shows it rising over the moon as the moon appears to rise to men on earth. It is a brilliant blue, with patches of brown that are whole continents. The background is velvet black and the dark side of the earth cannot be seen. The picture has the pocked and rugged surface of the moon in the foreground.

Color pictures of the moon have greenish or tan tint, but the astronauts said this color was not true. Instead, they said, the moon is more the color of "dirty beach sand."

The pictures clearly show craters, ridges, bluffs and ridges on the moon's bleak surface. Many of the craters appear as fresh and distinct indentations.

forces of the government of Israel to attack a civil international airport in a country which has been striving toward moderation in the Middle East."

The U.S. ambassador to Lebanon, Dwight Porter, called on Lebanese Premier Abdullah Yaffi to discuss how the United States could help Lebanon "restore its commercial air fleet," the embassy announced.

There was no indication, however, that the United States would go back on its agreement to deliver 50 Phantom jet fighters to Israel.

Helicopter-borne Israeli commandos destroyed 13 Lebanese cargo and passenger planes, more than half the country's civil airline fleet, in the 45-minute raid Saturday night. They first cleared the parked planes of passengers. One casualty was reported, a guard who was wounded slightly.

On Sunday, 12 hours after the raid, two Israeli jets flew over the airport to inspect the still-smoldering debris. Lebanese troops dived for cover, and the planes made two low passes and flew off unchallenged by anti-aircraft batteries or fighter planes based 40 miles away.

Lebanon claimed the destroyed aircraft were worth more than $50 million, and Arab and Soviet bloc countries at the Security Council meeting demanded that Israel be required to pay compensation.

Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik told the council that Israel also should be warned it faced possible sanctions if it persisted in what he called "flagrant aggressive acts." He charged the United States for condemning Israel while at the same time selling her Phantom jets.

Lebanon's U.N. representative, Edward Ghorra, noted that Israel has repeatedly defied U.N. resolutions of condemnation. He demanded that the Security Council take "effective measures under Chapter Seven"

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The most dramatic moments of television in 1968 came not in its show business function but in its news coverage.

Television cameras permitted a nation to share in the tragedy of two assassinations; to react to disturbances on city streets; to see war and fighting men in close-up, and to glory in an adventure that took men around the moon.

It was a year in which most Americans attended, through television, the funeral services of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. We shared the vigil outside the hospital where Sen. Robert F. Kennedy lay dying. We saw the President of the United States as he told us he would not seek re-election. And television took us through every step of the complicated and sometimes turbulent process that led to the election of his successor.

The nation and the world are still marveling at the way television permitted us to follow the astronauts a quarter-million miles into space and back.

Television also presented thoughtful and thought-provoking documentaries on the problems of the Negro and the troubles of the cities. A report on hunger in America was a shock-

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. HUBERT L. BARKSDALE

The sanctuary of First Baptist at seven o'clock Saturday, December 28, for the wedding of Miss Diane Ellis and Hubert Lynn Barksdale.

The Rev. Gerald Jackson, cousin of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by spiral candelabra and floor baskets filled with white stock and white gladioli. Pews were marked with candles, white satin bows and greenery which formed the bridal aisle. Southern snail was used as a background interspersed by gleaming candles in arched candelabra.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard F. Ellis of Hope are the parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert E. Barksdale of Pine Bluff.

Prior to the ceremony Mr. Luther Hollomon, Jr., organist, presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied Dr. Lowell Harris, who sang "With This Ring" and "L'Amour Toujours L'Amour."

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a formal gown fashioned in the Victorian tradition of silk faced peau de sole in white and richly trimmed in candlelight imported lace. It was designed with high neck line and long tapered sleeves. Motifs of the lace were applied on the bodice and extended onto the A-line skirt. High back fullness formed a Watteau train. Her formal length veil of silk illusion, edged with matching lace, fell in tiers from a face framing camelot crown of silk peau de sole accented with touches of lace. She carried a bouquet of gardenias, pink Happiness roses, and stephanotis in Colonial design.

Mrs. Charles David Porter of Waco, Texas, was matron of honor.

er. Day in and day out we saw the agony of Vietnam. And there was baseball, hockey, basketball, golf and football and more football.

There were some especially happy events on the entertainment side. There was, for instance, that fine adaptation of the stage play, "A Case of Libel," some absorbing original drama, including "The People Next Door," Vladimir Horowitz was presented in a glorious hour of music and we saw Barbara Streisand giving a concert in Central Park. There were many more.

A slam-bang, fast-paced comedy hour made its debut last January and soon "Laugh-In" had become the nation's most popular weekly program. A situational comedy with two attractive Negro performers, Diahann Carroll and Marc Copage, made its debut in September and soon "Julia" was the season's most solid hit.

There was nothing particularly memorable, sad to relate, about the bulk of the year's regular entertainment shows, and, as always, some shows were dreadful.

Perhaps the worst was the industry's own, the Emmy Awards.

honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Phala Brown of Little Rock, Miss Jerry Nicholas of Shreveport, Mrs. Claude Earl Lynch, Jr., of Osceola, and Mrs. Jackson Andrew Caldwell, Jr., of Hope.

They were attired in identical floor length dresses of Cordial red faille. The gowns featured a high neck bodice, designed with self-ruffles extending around the neckline and hem of the softly gathered skirts. They carried lighted pink candles fashioned in shapes of roses, showered with moss green velvet ribbon and leaves. In their hair, they wore matching Dior bows of Cordial red velvet sash. In her hair she wore a bandeau of matching flowers and carried a white basket of pink rose petals.

Mr. Barksdale attended his son as best man. Groomsman were Larry Mitchell Moore of Hope, Steven Couch of Texarkana, Wayne Owen of Pine Bluff, and Ralph Dean Irwin III of Fayetteville. Candlelighters were Charles David Porter, Waco, Texas, and Claude Earl Lynch Jr., of Osceola. Ringbearer was Frank Barksdale, brother of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ellis wore a floor length angel blue brocade, jacketed dress, accented with jeweled buttons and a white mink collar. She wore a matching coil and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Barksdale wore a floor length gown designed of frosted crepe with a fitted bodice and straight skirt, complemented with a waist length jacket of beaded lace, featuring a jewel neckline. She wore a matching contour bow and pinned a white orchid at her shoulder.

Following the wedding, the bride's parents were hosts at a reception in the church parlor. The refreshment table was covered with a white satin cloth, centered with an arrangement of pink and red roses in a silver container. Silver branched candelabra flanked the centerpiece. Garlands of miniature southern snail were caught up with nosegays of pink roses.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Alfred Brannan, who introduced them to the wedding party. Others dispensing hospitality were Mrs. Donald Moore, Mrs. Franklin McLarty, Mrs. J.W. Franks, Mrs. Rufus Herndon, Jr., Mrs. Roy Taylor, Mrs. Irwin Baker, Miss Ruth Lewis, Mrs. Kenneth Paddle, Mrs. Olin Lewis, Mrs. Hal Connes, Mrs. Robert Daniels, Mrs. Max Bruce, all of Hope; Mrs. William Dillard, Charles Brown of Little Rock; Mrs. Joe Hart of Beebe; Mrs. Michael Allen of Fayetteville; and Mrs. Ray Allen of Texarkana; Misses Peggy Franks, Cindy Reese, Linda O'Steen, Cookie Jones, Marjorie Royston, Jane Grigg, Rose Ann Williams and Susan Turner of Hope; Susan Johnson and Sue Walk of Eldorado; Beth Williamson of Fayetteville; and Kim Davey of Dallas.

For going away, the bride chose a turquoise wool dress with matching coat. Her corsage was a gardenia from her bridal bouquet. Following a wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Fayetteville.

New Guides for Wages, Prices Set

By TOM STEWART
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's top economic advisers have marked their last days in office by calling on business and labor to make "mutual short-term sacrifices" by accepting new guide lines for voluntary wage and price restraints.

In a report to President Johnson Sunday, the Cabinet Committee on Price Stability recommended that the six-year-old guide posts of 3.2 per cent increases be boosted in 1969 to "a little less than 5 per cent" for wages and that price hikes be kept at about the same level as 1968.

The report also suggested that business absorb the first 1 per cent in costs without increasing prices to the consumer. Prices on consumer goods increased more than 4 per cent in 1968, the report noted.

There was no immediate reaction from business and labor, both of which generally ignored the 3.2 per cent guide lines set by the Kennedy administration in 1962.

The future of the guide lines remains in doubt, anyway, since the Nixon administration may have its own ideas on how to cope with the wage-price spiral. A spokesman acknowledged the Nixon administration was not consulted on the guide posts proposal, which he described as essentially nonpolitical.

The Republicans who will take over the running of the government on Jan. 20, he said, "are aware, as we are aware, that the biggest, most over-riding economic problem in the United States is the problem of combining prosperity with price stability."

Members of the committee instructed by Johnson last February to draw a blueprint for a return to stable prices, were the chairmen of the Council of Economic Advisers, the director of the Budget Bureau, and the Secretaries of commerce, treasury and labor.

The long-term goal, the Cabinet officials said, is still the 3.2

Engagement Announced

MISS JO ANN "COOKIE" JONES

Rev. and Mrs. Joe Jones announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jo Ann "Cookie" Jones to Ronald Lee Stephens of Little Rock. Mr. Stephens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stephens also of Little Rock.

The wedding will be an event of February 1, 1969 in the Washington Methodist Church, Washington, Arkansas, at 5:30 p.m. No invitations will be sent.

Sophia Loren Radiant Over Baby Son

GENEVA (AP) — Flowers and congratulations poured in today for Sophia Loren, made radiantly happy by the birth of her first child after four miscarriages.

After 11 years of marriage to film producer Carlo Ponti, the 34-year-old star gave birth by Caesarean section Sunday to a 7-pound 11-ounce boy at the Geneva State Hospital. Mother and son were reported in perfect health.

The baby was named Carlo, Jr.

"Thank you for my baby," were Miss Loren's first words, after she recovered consciousness and her gynecologist, Prof. Hubert de Watteville told her of the birth. Then she telephoned her mother in Italy.

Ponti, 55, had a look at his son before his wife woke up.

"He is beautiful—dark blue eyes and light brown hair," he told newsmen. European television viewers saw the baby briefly Sunday night. "He looks exactly like his father," said a Geneva housewife.

Because of her previous difficult pregnancies, Miss Loren had spent the past six months in a Geneva hotel suite, under constant observation by De Watteville. He is an internationally known specialist on difficult pregnancies. Miss Loren came to him after her last miscarriage, in January 1967, and he gave her special treatment before she became pregnant again.

De Watteville told newsmen he felt that the role of nutrition was decisive and that he made sure that Miss Loren received the correct balance of hormones, vitamins, and minerals.

Miss Loren is expected to stay in the clinic for about 10 days and is likely to remain in Geneva for another month or so for regular examinations by De Watteville.

She is scheduled to resume her movie career in September, costarring in "Giovanna" with Marcello Mastroianni. The film will be shot in the Soviet Union and tells of an Italian woman in search of her missing husband after World War II.

Basketball Resumes in District 4-AA

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Basketball season moves into full swing this week, as Region 4-AA teams move into tough competition in both the Eastern and Western Divisions.

The format is the same as last year, with the two six-teams divisions running through a double round-robin schedule interspersed with sectional contests between schools on opposite sides.

For the record, the Western Division lineup includes the Fairview Cardinals, the Maivern Leopards, the Camden Lincoln Tigers, the Texarkana Washington Lions, the Arkadelphia Badgers, and the Hope Bobcats.

Participating in the Eastern Division are the Camden Panthers, the Magnolia Panthers, the Smackover Buckaroos, the El Dorado Washington Hornets, the Crossett Eagles, and the Warren Lumberjacks.

Today this column concentrates on the Eastern Division, of whom only Magnolia will play the Bobcats. The Crossett Eagles won the East last winter handily, with Smackover pulling up second.

Once more Crossett threatens under Coach Ted Lyons, who took the Eagles to the State Class A championship at Barton Coliseum in Little Rock last winter, but Lyons lost his best all-around players from that bunch in All-Stater Terry Hankton, a slender 6-4 Negro who is already doing well now as a freshman in the AIC.

Returning starters from that crew are guards Tommy Holli-man and Steve Kniseley, but neither is much of a scoring threat from outside. Junior Ray Brookings will help at forward, but a couple of starting spots and most of the reserves will rely on sophomores and foot-ballers out for the first time.

Smackover has the best argument of anybody for winning the Eastern Division, and their main forte is simply tradition. The Bucks will have to find a replacement for departed Wayne Freppon, who took over football duties at DeQueen, but earlier this month Fairview only beat them 36-53, and Fairview is threatening to go all the way in the West and maybe for the state title.

The Buckaroos do have the personnel, including returning starters David Chenoweth, Jimmy Don Holloway, and post man David Wilkie.

Chenoweth, who was a good passing quarterback for the football Buckaroos, returns for his senior year as signal-caller for the basketball Bucks. David has good height for a backcourt man at six feet even, and he has a good shooting hand from outside the confines of a zone defense.

Jimmy Don Holloway alternated with All-State brother Mike last season, but this younger Holloway has enough ability and moves to score 10 points a game. David Wilkie played the pivot last year as a junior, and should be of All-District caliber at 6-4 this time around.

Tad Pigage is a fine junior forward and hefty at 180 pounds, and he is helped by senior Alva Lotz, who was the leading pass receiver for Smackover during football.

Watch out for the Camden Panthers by district tournament time, though, because the Panthers have a talented squad of underclassmen on hand. They barely missed going to the state meet last year by losing in the district quarterfinals, so they do have something to shoot for.

Camden sports the area's tallest basketballer in Mike Martin, at 6-9 junior who is tabbed to be a seven-footer by his college days. However, Mike must improve his coordination and speed over last year, and he has worked hard in the off-season.

Besides Martin, Bill Dedman, Tommy Watts and Bill Meek return starting experience, but the Panthers will benefit from two consecutive junior high Power-houses. The top product of those 6-3 postman Calvin Johnson, who also excels in the high jump during track season.

Magnolia's Panthers will have to come a long way to challenge seriously, and Hope will be the first 4-AA judge of the Panthers' worth this Friday in Magnolia. Coach Connie Maloch returns guard Ricky Murphy, who did quite well last year against Hope, also around is forward David

Alabama Is Slaughtered by Missouri

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The big ones are yet to come, but what may be the biggest upset of the post-season college football bowls already is on the books, leaving a badly mauled Bear licking his wounds.

"They ran up and down the field like they were playing a barbers' college," muttered Alabama Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant after fired-up Missouri had humiliated the favored Crimson Tide 35-10 in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

The summer—one of four games Saturday that ushered in the long, long week of bowl games—was the worst post-season licking ever administered Alabama, which was making a record 22nd bowl appearance.

The bowls continue tonight with Louisiana State, 7-3, playing Florida State, 8-2, in the Peach Bowl at Atlanta. Oklahoma, 7-3 and winding up with a flurry, plays Southern Methodist, also 7-3, in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston Tuesday before the Big Four climax the season Wednesday, New Year's Day.

Topping that card, of course, is rugged, top-ranked Ohio State, 9-0, vs. Southern California and Heisman Trophy-winner O. J. Simpson in the Rose Bowl. Southern Cal., 9-0-1, tied by Notre Dame in the last regular season game, is ranked No. 2 and will be seeking to regain the top spot.

The New Year's Day line-up is one of the best ever. Eight of the nine top-ranked teams will be in action. The only one missing is Notre Dame, No. 7, which does not participate in bowl games.

The rest of the schedule has Penn State, No. 3, 10-0, vs. Kansas, No. 6, 9-1, in the Orange Bowl at Miami; Georgia, No. 4, 8-0-2, vs. Arkansas, No. 9, 9-1, in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, and Texas, No. 5, 8-1-1, vs. Tennessee, No. 8, 8-1-1, in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Sports Network will televise two of the games, the Peach Bowl at 8 p.m., EST, tonight and the Bluebonnet at 7:30 p.m., EST, Tuesday. Wednesday, with all times EST, NBC-TV has a triple-header, with the Sugar Bowl at 2 p.m., the Rose at 5 p.m., and the Orange at 8 p.m. ABC-TV will handle the Cotton Bowl at 2 p.m.

"They out-everythinged us," muttered "Bama's Bryant after Missouri ripped through the Tide's vaunted defense for 404 yards on the ground.

And that represented the entire offense—the Tigers didn't complete a pass and still ripped off 35 points against a defense that yielded only 104 points in the regular season. Alabama had a net rushing of minus 45 yards.

Greg Cook gained 179 yards for Missouri and quarterback Terry McMillan ran for three touchdowns.

"They beat us every way known to man," said Bryant, who suffered his worst beating since 1954.

In other news, Auburn intercepted eight Arizona passes and whipped the Wildcats 34-10 in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex.; the West beat the East 18-7 in the Shrine game at San Francisco and the Gray defeated the Blue 28-7 in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala.

The Peach Bowl, making its debut, matches two teams that have never before played each other—LSU and Florida State. It could be a high-scoring affair, with Florida State's flashy passing attack—quarterback Bill Capperman to flanker Ron Sellers the all-time major college leader at catching passes—opposed by LSU's rugged defense and solid running.

Florida State is favored by 6½ points. The other favorites include Oklahoma 12½; Ohio State 3; Penn State 2½; Texas 6½; and Georgia 7.

action going again Friday when it takes on tough Arkansas Tech at Russellville. This will be the only AIC battle this week although several AIC teams will play nonconference foes.

Henderson is atop the league standings with a 6-0 record, then comes Ouachita at 4-1, Harding and State College are tied for third with 4-2 records. Tied for fourth with 2-3 marks are Tech, Southern State and Arkansas A&M. Hendrix is 1-3, Arkansas College is 1-4, and Ozark is last at 0-5.

Games involving AIC teams this week will see Tech at Arkansas A&M tonight; Henderson at Grambling Tuesday; Phillander Smith at Harding, Southern State at Northeast Louisiana and Oklahoma Christian at Arkansas College Thursday; Phillander Smith at Arkansas College, Oklahoma

SMU and TCU inConference TV BB Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern Methodist and Texas Christian get the Southwest Conference basketball title chase underway Saturday in Fort Worth before regional television cameras.

The Mustang-Horned Frog hookup will be the only game-keeper this week. TCU is the defending SWC champion.

In holiday tournament play last weekend, SWC teams came home with two first place trophies, three runner-up awards and a third place. Not bad for a league which is supposed to be able to play basketball.

Baylor snared the East Carolina Classic first prize with a resounding 79-61 thumping of Virginia. The Bears now have the best season mark in the SWC with a 7-2 state.

Arkansas took the Little Rock Classic crown with a slow-motion 56-48 win over Centenary. Arkansas is 6-3 for the year.

Texas lost to Davidson 88-76 in the finals of the Charlotte Invitational. The Longhorns are 4-6 on the season.

SMU fell before Drake 86-81 in the Dallas All-Sports Classic finals and TCU was clipped 83-81 by California in the California Winter Classic. SMU is 3-5 for the season and TCU is 6-2.

Rice won third place in the Kodak Tournament with a 71-69 thriller over Seton Hall. The Owls' Gregg Williams was voted the most valuable player of the tournament. Rice is 3-4 for the season.

Texas A&M is still competing in the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City. The Aggies are in the consolation finals tonight. They stunned the College of the Pacific 77-75 Saturday night. A&M is 4-4 over the season.

Texas Tech was idle last week. TCU is at Nevada Southern tonight. Texas Tech hosts McMurry Thursday night in the only other game involving a SWC team this week.

Reddies Take Tourney at Pine Bluff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Henderson Reddies have rubbed out what doubts there may have been that they weren't the class of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference again this year.

The Reddies, defending AIC champion, whipped two nonconference foes over the weekend to win the Kiwanis tournament at Pine Bluff.

In doing so, the Reddies ran their unbeaten string to 10 this season, the only unblemished record in the league. Henderson will get the league

Colts Blank Browns for NFL Flag

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — "I was in New York, you know, I heard a lot about Joe Namath and the Jets. I am anxious to play against him."

Earl Morrall, Baltimore's rags-to-riches quarterback, was talking in the Colts' locker room Sunday after they had wiped out Cleveland 34-0 to move into a Super Bowl date with the New York Jets on Jan. 12 at Miami.

It was Morrall's happiest day, capping many years of frustration by adding the National Football League title to his own Most Valuable Player honors after bouncing from San Francisco to Pittsburgh to Detroit to New York to Baltimore in 13 years as a pro.

"It should be interesting to play against the Jets and against Namath," commented linebacker Mike Curtis, who intercepted a Bill Nelsen pass in the rout. "I won't look at him any different than I do any other quarterback."

Coach Don Shula of the Colts, who lived four years with the humiliation of the 27-0 beating by Cleveland in the 1964 title game, was on cloud nine.

"I feel just wonderful," he said. "We've been a frustrated team for a long time but we're not frustrated now. I am looking forward to playing the Jets. I am particularly happy for Weeb." Weeb Ewbank coach of the Jets, was the Baltimore coach when the Colts won their last previous NFL title in 1959.

Shula played for Ewbank from 1954 to 1956. There was concern in the locker room about an injury to Tom Matte, the halfback who led a playoff record by scoring three touchdowns on runs of one, 12 and two yards. He matched the record set by Cleveland's Otto Graham in 1954 and equaled by the Browns' Gary Collins in the 1964 game.

"I caught a knee in the back and felt weak for a minute," said Matte, who collapsed in the locker room and was attended by Dr. E.J. McDonnell, the Colts' physician.

An examination conducted in Baltimore Sunday night showed Matte suffered a mild concussion and a contusion of the lower back. X rays of his rib cage were negative and doctors reported no apparent damage to his kidneys.

Matte, a former Ohio State quarterback, ran 17 times for 88 yards and caught two passes for 15 yards and a total offense of 103 yards.

The Colts' complete defense simply blanketed the Browns, whose only offensive spurts were marred by penalties. Leroy Kelly, the two-time rushing champ of the league, was shackled with 28 yards and that just about tells the story of the game watched by 80,628 chilled fans at Cleveland's snow-fringed stadium.

In addition to shutting off Kelly, who gained more than 100 yards seven times in 14 regular season games, the Colts had interceptions by Rick Volk and Curtis, a blocked field goal by Bubba Smith, a fumble recovery by Don Shinnick and four smears of the Cleveland passer.

Ordeell Brasse, a 36-year-old defensive end in his 12th year as a pro, was in on all four dumps of the Browns' passer. He got Nelsen once and Frank Ryan once and teamed up with Fred Miller on two other jobs on Nelsen. All in all, the four smears cost the Browns a total of 35 yards. Things got so bad in the end that Blanton Collier, the Cleveland coach, had Ryan take over for Nelsen, who completed 11 of 26 but had two picked off.

It was not one of Morrall's great passing days. He hit with only 11 of 25 for 169 yards, but his play direction was superb. The Colts, known primarily as a passing team, ran for 184 yards with Matte and Jerry Hill doing the heavy duty.

Baltimore, which shut out three opponents in regular season and allowed a league low of 144 points, blanked the Browns for the first time in 143 games, a streak running back to a 1958 Eastern Conference playoff game in New York.

Baltimore broke the ice with 17 points in the second quarter after a scoreless opening period. Following the blocked field goal by Bubba Smith, they moved in range for Lou Michaels' 28-yard field goal. After receiving a punt, they moved 60 yards in 10 plays before Matte went over from the one. Curtis' interception set the stage for a 33-yard move in three running plays, climaxed by Matte's 12-yard burst.

When two illegal procedure penalties disrupted a Cleveland march in the third quarter the

N.Y. Jets Get Their First AFL Title

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Jets, their first American Football League championship consummated by the proper champagne celebration, will arrive in Miami for the Super Bowl Thursday night, four years and one day after Jim Hudson outpassed Joe Namath in the Orange Bowl.

Hudson and Namath are on the same team now, but on opposite sides of the line. Namath, a quarterback at Alabama, has remained at that position. Hudson, a quarterback whose 69-yard touchdown pass helped Texas beat Alabama in that Orange Bowl game, has switched to safety.

The reason for the move and the non-move was all too painfully obvious to the Oakland Raiders Sunday as they watched their chances of a second straight title get swept up in the swirling wind at Shea Stadium.

The Jets, fired by Namath on offense and Hudson on defense, trimmed the Raiders 27-23 and vaulted into the Jan. 12 Super Bowl against the Baltimore Colts, who whipped Cleveland 34-0 for the National League Crown.

That means Weeb Ewbank's present team will run into his old one. Ewbank coached the Colts for nine years and won two NFL titles with them, making him the only coach to win championships in both leagues.

The Green Bay Packers won the first two Super Bowls, beating Kansas City and Oakland, and the Colts will be expected to keep the NFL streak going. But Dave Grayson, an Oakland safety, isn't so sure.

"New York has molded into a very good team," he said after the Jets halted Oakland's nine-game winning streak. "They have always been good, but they used to have times when they broke down. Today they played a great game."

"The Jets have a good chance to win the Super Bowl. There's not that much difference in the leagues now. And Joe Namath is as good as any other quarterback in pro football."

Namath was not as accurate Sunday as he's been most of the season—he completed only 19 of 49 passes. But he got the ball in the end zone when he had to, throwing touchdown passes of 14 yards to Don Maynard, 20 yards to Pete Lammons and again to Maynard for six yards and the winning touchdown with 7:47 left in the game.

Hudson's defensive moves didn't add any points to the Jets' total, but they prevented the Raiders from getting at least eight and possibly more points.

New York was leading 13-10 in the third quarter—Jim Turner had kicked field goals of 33 and 36 yards—when Hudson bolted into the Raiders' way.

On four consecutive plays, he pulled Warren Wells down at the Jet six-yard line after the split end had caught a 40-yard pass from Daryle Lamonica, completed the scoring.

Colts struck again with the third Matte touchdown after a fine catch by Richardson completed a 38-yard gain to the five.

Michael's second field goal, a 10-yarder, and a four-yard touchdown run by Timmy Brown, just reactivated Saturday, completed the scoring.

Baltimore, New York in Super-Bowl

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Baltimore Colts of the National Football League and the New York Jets of the American League earned a crack at the Super Bowl's rich payoff by winning their league titles Sunday.

The Colts pummeled the host Cleveland Browns 34-0 and won about $9,000 for the NFL crown, while the Jets edged the Oakland Raiders 27-23 in New York and took in $8,000 per man.

The teams will meet in the third annual Super Bowl in Miami Jan. 12 for pro football's championship with the winner picking up another $15,000. The loser gets $7,500.

Baltimore, which won its division title with a 13-1 record before beating Minnesota in the conference playoff last week, had little trouble against the Browns, a team that dealt the Colts their only loss earlier. Tom Matte scored three touchdowns while Baltimore's vaunted defense turned in its fourth shutout.

The Jets, now 12-3, needed Joe Namath's third touchdown pass and second to Don Maynard with 7½ minutes remaining to bring them from behind moments after Oakland had taken its first lead.

He Can Really Fly! LOGAN, Utah. — (NEA) — Utah State's sophomore tailback Craig Jerrell can really fly—in more ways than one. The 5-8 speedster trained for six months as a pilot on commercial jetliners and now owns a smaller plane of his own. When he's playing football, the plane is hanging at Logan Airport.

Likes Openers BATON ROUGE, La. — (NEA) — Charlie McClendon can't wait for the opening game of every football season. He has never lost one.

When Louisiana State edged Texas A&M, 13-12, in the 1968 season's opener, it marked the seventh straight year McClendon's Tigers have opened with a victory.

He wound up passing for 401 yards he completed only 20 of 47.

"Their front four put a lot of heat on me," said Lamonica, who tossed five touchdown passes in last week's Western games. This time he threw just one, a 29-yarder to Fred Biletnikoff, and that was the difference between the estimated $8,000 winner's share and $6,000 loser's.

Sugar Bowl Battle of Quarterbacks

By HARRY KING H
Associated Press Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — In this day of the redshirt football player, two true sophomores, with look-alike records, will be the quarterbacks Wednesday when Arkansas and Georgia collide in the Sugar Bowl.

Mike Cavan will be the signal caller for Georgia. His Arkansas counterpart is Bill Montgomery.

Both possess the necessary confidence and leadership ability.

"Cavan has great confidence and poise for someone so young," says Coach Vince Dooley. "And the team has complete confidence in him. That's what makes us go."

"The players are bound to have confidence in any quarterback who executes the plays you work on," says Coach Frank Broyles of his quarterback. "Really the first comment you hear from outsiders is about his coolness."

Both completed more than 50 per cent of their passes.

Cavan connected on 116 of 207 for 1,619 yards and nine touchdowns.

Montgomery completed 134 of 234 attempts for 1,595 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Cavan was named "sophomore of the Year" in the Southeast Conference and Montgomery won the award in the Southwest Conference.

The similarities go even further.

Both played for their fathers in high school and neither was assured of being the starter in the pre-season calculations.

"I figured if I got a chance that I would play," Cavan says. "I always had hoped that I could do the job."

Montgomery took the starting job away from junior John Eichler and senior Gordon Norwood.

"I don't believe in attaching glorious terms to sophomores," says Broyles. "I like for the record to speak and it does. A senior who played regular for three years would have been excited about the kind of year Bill had."

A record crowd of almost 85,000 is expected for the 2 p.m. EST. kickoff. The game will be televised by NBC.

The Razorbacks arrived at New Orleans Sunday night from Fayetteville, Ark., and Broyles said he agreed with the odds-makers that Georgia should be favored by a touchdown.

"The big story about Georgia is their age," Broyles said. "They've got nothing but four and five-year men on the defensive team. For a comparison, look at our lineup."

The Razorbacks will start seven sophomores and two other first year players against the Bulldogs.

Hootie Ingram, who coaches Arkansas' defensive backs, explained Georgia's defense by saying: "It's not that they do anything that much different from anyone else. It's just that they've played together so long they're masters at it."

Selected President The U.S. House of Representatives has twice been called upon to select a president. The house selected Thomas Jefferson over Aaron Burr and John Quincy Adams over Andrew Jackson.

MORE IMPRESSED with camera than U.S. gaffer Billy Cooper is this pair of lionesses at Johannesburg, South Africa. Cooper has won a lion's share of tournament money on the U.S. circuit this year.

3 Highway Deaths in Arkansas

Three persons were killed Sunday and they were the only fatalities recorded on Arkansas highways over the weekend, according to an Associated Press count.

Three three died in separate accidents.

They were identified as E. G. Beckwith, 59, of Lonsdale (Garland County); Dwane Dale Kern, 18, of Rogers; and Bennie Condry, 49, of Rison.

Secwith was killed when his car collided head-on with a car driven by James Ayers, 25, of Pine Bluff, about a mile east of Hot Springs on U.S. 70. Ayers was hospitalized at Hot Springs.

Kern was killed when his vehicle overturned on a county road one mile east of Rogers. Kern's sister, Yvonne, 19, was injured.

Condry was killed when he apparently lost control of his car, which ran off a city street at Pine Bluff and smashed into a tree.

Oswald: "Our telephone bridge match against Mrs. Claire Stone and Mrs. Clarence Bailey of Champaign, Ill., represents a first in bridge history."

Jim: "The idea was that of Dick Baker of the Champaign-Urbana Courier. All pairs in the area competed and the winners played an eight-hand telephone match against us. The match was not intended to prove anything because we simply played eight hands, but a large audience in Illinois watched the ladies put up quite a game against us. They actually beat us by 280 points but they had some what the better of the cards and we don't feel disgraced."

Oswald: "The ladies played North and South but for purposes of these articles we will shift the hands so that South will always be declarer."

Jim: "Mrs. Bailey and I were sort of left out of high cards on hand No. 1. Mrs. Stone chose to open one club instead of one no-trump and as a result you wound up playing one no-trump."

Oswald: "Mrs. Stone had to lead something and she made the slightly unfortunate choice of the six of spades. Had she opened a heart I would have been held to two no-trump. As it was, I managed to make three odd for what would have been a very good score at match point duplicate."

Jim: "The hand turned out to be a series of end plays. You kept putting Mrs. Stone in and she never had a decent lead."

Oswald: "Let's leave it to

THE WELL CHILD

Pinworms Are Common; Eggs Easily Spread

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

A mother writes that her child recently played with some children who have pinworms. Their mother takes a lighthearted attitude toward this infestation but the writer is worried and would like to know whether her child could get pinworms by just playing with those children and whether she should keep her child home until, if he has the worms, he has gotten rid of them.

Pinworms are indeed common as the lighthearted mother implied. A child will not get them from just being around children who have them but that does increase his chances. Here is how they are transmitted. Pinworm eggs with a diameter of about 1/500 of an inch get on one's fingers or food and are swallowed. In the digestive tract they hatch and mature. When a female pinworm is full of eggs she works her way out of the digestive tract, usually at night.

The anal itching is not enough to waken the host but may cause scratching. The tiny eggs will remain on the fingers or under the nails and on the sheets and night clothes. Making the beds and putting the pajamas away will send the eggs into the air and wherever they land they are ready to be picked up and start the cycle all over again.

This mother's child may or may not have gotten pinworms. If he hasn't, there is no need to treat him. If he has, the whole family should be treated at the same time. Meanwhile, they should scrupulously wash their hands before each meal and after each trip to the toilet. No quarantine or fumigation is necessary.

Q—My son, 5, is bright but overactive. In nursery school he can't stay at any one thing. Our doctor is giving him Atarax. Does it have any bad side effects? Is it habit forming?

A—Hydroxyzine (Atarax) is a minor tranquilizer and our readers to work out the whole play. The bidding is quite interesting in that many players would open Mrs. Stone's hand with one no-trump. They would consider three 10s and one nine enough extra value to warrant this bid in spite of only 15 high card points."

Jim: "We'll never know what would have happened had Mrs. Stone made this bid. I am not going to embarrass you by asking what you would have done if one no-trump had been passed around to you."

is not habit-forming. Anyone who takes it for a long time should have frequent blood checks and liver function tests.

Although most children outgrow the tendency to be overactive between the ages of 10 and 12, they do present a problem in their early years. A recent study suggests that tranquilizers may aggravate the trouble and that stimulating drugs, strange as it may seem, bring about a marked improvement.

Do-It-Yourself Lawyers

It was a story to warn the heart of the common man. An indignant motorist, handling his own case, fought a traffic ticket all the way to the state supreme court and won an acquittal.

In acting as his own lawyer he was within his rights. There is no legal requirement that you must have an attorney to represent you in the courtroom. As long as you are of age and mentally competent, you have the right to plead your own cause.

But the difficulties to be faced are formidable indeed. As the United States Supreme Court observed about a layman in court:

"He needs the aid of counsel lest he be the victim of over-zealous prosecutors, of the law's complexity, or of his own ignorance or bewilderment."

Nor is the court required to guide the do-it-yourself lawyer through his difficulties. By and

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Seventeenth-century wit Tom Brown, while a student at Oxford, was threatened with expulsion for some offense. The World Almanac notes that Brown won a pardon when he met Dean John Fell's challenge to make an immediate English paraphrase of Latin poet Martial's 33rd epigram. The immortal retort was: "I do not love thee, Dr. Fell. The reason why I cannot tell/But this alone I know full well/I do not love thee, Dr. Fell."

Beatles Bedazzle, Bug Critics

By TOM A. CULLEN
European Staff Correspondent

LONDON—(NEA)—Are the Beatles the greatest songwriters since Schubert? Is John Lennon an embryo Brahms? Does Paul McCartney show signs of becoming another Bach?

Some of Britain's high-brow critics think so, judging from the rave notices they have given to the Beatles' latest double LP album, which is titled simply "The Beatles."

"The most important musical event of the year," is the way the stuffy London Times greets the appearance of the album. The Times' music critic goes on to gush, "No other living composers have achieved so much."

The Observer rates the Beatles even higher than Franz Schubert (1797-1827). Commenting on the fact that the Beatles recently turned out 15 new songs in one batch, the Observer's egg-head critic crows, "Not even Schubert wrote at that rate."

As for the influential Guardian, its critics call the Beatles "the first full citizens of the postscientific age," whatever that may mean, and is ecstatic over their new LP record.

Whether or not it puts them in the music master class, the Beatles' latest album, which contains 30 new songs, should boost them into Britain's highest income tax bracket. For even before the LPs appeared in the shops here more than $2 million worth had been sold in advance. This is in spite of a new purchase tax which the government has slapped on all records.

The new LP is also expected to do well in America, where the Beatles' single, "Hey Jude," has notched up sales of over three million in just two months.

The pop world is by no means in agreement that the Beatles' album is another Beethoven's Ninth or Schubert's Unfinished Symphony. The Melody Maker finds such talk pretentious if not sinister.

Deploping the tendency to take pop music seriously Michael Smith, the Melody Maker's critic, longs for the good old days when "pop music had all the complexity and durability of candy floss."

"It must be a source of never-ending amusement to the Beatles," Smith writes, "to see their naive musical bits and pieces acclaimed as manifestations of blinding genius."

However, the consensus here is that the new Beatles' LP is an impressive performance. Many of its 30 tracks are deliberate send-ups, parodies and put-ons of other pop artists, including Elvis Presley, Donovan, Chuck Berry, Little Richard, the Beach Boys, and Blind Lemon Jefferson.

Other influences that can be traced include talking blues, shouting blues, rock 'n' roll, Nashville country and western, Latin American, calypso, Indian traditional music, music concrete, and flamenco.

Some of the songs have weird titles, such as "The Glass Onion." Others refer to animals, among them being "Blackbird," "My Monkey," "The Eagle Who Picks My Eye" and "Piggies," which is supposed to be about the Chicago police, according to one interpretation. Similarly the song, "Sextie Sadie," is said to refer to the Maharishi, the Hindu mystic at whose feet the Beatles sat at one time.

Not all of the new Beatles songs are chips off the old Bach, however. Some of them sound downright simpleminded, such as the one called "Birthday," which includes lines like "Happy birthday to you." Another consists of repeating "Good Night" over and over. A third, titled "Revolution 9," is composed of sound effects, overheard gossip, tapes played backwards.

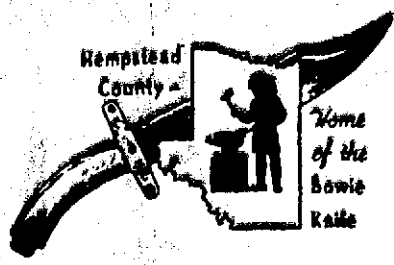

"Janglings from the subconscious memories of a floundering civilization" is the way the Observer's long-haired critic describes this last number.

To other less acute ears, it sounds an awful lot like a meaningless collection of noise.

Styrofoam Available for Floating Docks

Joe Clowers, who is building the Beard's Bluff Landing dock on Millwood Lake shown on this page today, said in his original announcement he expected to have the project ready for use by Jan. 1. But the weather changed his plans—as it changes all plans.

When I visited him at the construction site Sunday afternoon to make the progress pictures he said he now hopes to have the dock-slips finished by March 1—and judging from what I saw Sunday he'll make that date O.K. One of the principal problems in dock-building on Millwood Lake is the lack of natural harbors in which to anchor docks and boats safely against the storms which are notorious in all shallow lakes that have no protecting hills to break the wind. Clowers expects to overcome this problem with the floating breakwater he has constructed out in the lake to form an artificial harbor, which breakwater may be seen in the photo layout.

I was interested in this because back in 1952 I engineered a floating dock myself. It was for the cottage on Narrows Lake jointly maintained by The Star and Radio Station KXAR as a vacation spot for their employees. However, we had the advantage of a protected anchorage in a cove between the hills that surround the Narrows.

Our main expense was a pair of marine cables with counter-balances to enable the dock to follow the water-level changes on the Narrows. It was a good engineering job, if I do say so, because the dock has stood up for 16 years. We are overhauling it this winter.

But we never did whip one problem — and I see that Clowers has — the problem of adequate flotation for a dock. We used oil drums, but regardless of how much we coated them they rusted out in a few years and had to be replaced.

Clowers has overcome that problem. He uses no barrels, floating his dock sections in blocks of styrofoam. I asked him about the source of his material, and here it is:

Stanark Plastics, Inc., 3424 E. Broadway, North Little Rock, Ark.

The styrofoam has to be cut to fit your particular dock with a hot wire. But the sensible thing to do is what we plan for our Narrows dock — measure your timbers and have the factory pre-cut the styrofoam before delivery.

Joe Clowers is a pretty well known man around Little Rock. I heard him mentioned last Thursday night on the 10:30 telecast from Channel 11, on Jerry McKinnis' Arkansas Sportsman show. When I mentioned this to Clowers Sunday he said he had been on Jerry's show frequently — something I didn't know, being a TV-viewer for only a year.

Suit Asks Election by Wards

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A suit challenging the system under which aldermen are elected in Arkansas was filed in U.S. District Court at Little Rock by four Pine Bluff Negroes.

Defendants named in the suit are Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell, Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, Pine Bluff Mayor Austin Franks and Pine Bluff's eight aldermen.

Aldermen in first-class cities, such as Pine Bluff, are elected at-large by all of the city's voters.

The suit, filed by William Dove Sr., president of the Pine Bluff branch of the NAACP, the Rev. Isaac Tate, an unsuccessful candidate for alderman Nov. 5, and Vanette Johnson and Albert Baxter, both instructors at Arkansas AM&NN seeks to overturn this system and require aldermen to be elected by only voters in the wards they represent.

The suit noted that in each ward where Negroes were running, the Negro carried the ward but lost over-all in the election.

The suit contends that this system deprives Negroes of a significant voice in city government.

"Every nonwhite candidate who has entered a primary from the predominantly non-white wards has been defeated on the basis of the citywide tally, while receiving a majority of the votes cast in the non-white wards," the suit said. "This pattern predictably has been a degenerative effect on the political aspirations of potential nonwhite candidates as on the political expectations of nonwhite electorate."

The plaintiffs seek a hearing before a three-judge panel in district court.

Cabin Fire Kills Five 'Teen-Agers

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Five teen-agers burned to death and five were injured Sunday night in a fire that swept a homemade cabin in an isolated area of the Indian Hill section, police said.

Police said the flame on a gas stove apparently went out during the night.

McAllister was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar McAllister. White was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard White.

Pueblo Crew Say Koreans Abused Them

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Two of the USS Pueblo's enlisted men give the first detailed accounts today of beatings suffered by crewmen during 11 months of North Korean captivity.

The intelligence ship's commanding officer, Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher, has said the North Koreans made a "studied attempt to create terror among my men and myself."

Quartermaster L.C. Charles B. Law, Jr., 27, of Port Townsend, Wash., and Radioman 2.C. Lee R. Hayes, 26, of Columbus, Ohio, will describe examples of beatings at a news conference, the Navy announced Sunday. Newsmen will be allowed to question Law and Hayes, the Navy said.

Law "took it the worst of anyone in the crew," an informed source said.

In an interview at Midway Island, while he and the crew were en route home last week, Bucher told newsmen, "Every member of the crew had been subjected to terror of some kind or another. Whether it was actual physical beating or not is beside the point, because the terror of expecting a beating is just as terrifying."

"The threat of a beating was always there. Every time they decided to beat someone it was done from an emotional point of view. It was always done from a studied attempt to create terror among my men and myself."

The director of the U.S. Naval hospital where the 82 crewmen are staying, Rear Adm. Horace Warden, said last Thursday all of the men "have a history of physical maltreatment."

At the 121st Evacuation Hospital in Seoul, where the crewmen were taken after their release, Army doctors said 20 to 30 per cent of the crew showed "some evidence of maltreatment recent enough to detect." They said one sailor, not identified, had a broken rib. Others had bruises, scars and black eyes.

Angry Jews Promise New Arab Blows

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Undeterred by mounting condemnation from all sides of its commando raid on the Beirut airport, Israel on Sunday promised further retaliation for Arab attacks.

Premier Levi Eshkol declared that Israel will defend itself against aggression "in the place where it is planned and carried out."

"States which make it possible for the terror organizations to organize and perpetrate acts of terror bear the responsibility for aggression, a responsibility which they cannot disclaim," he said.

Eshkol and Israel's ambassador to the United Nations, Shabtai Rosenne, said Saturday's raid was in retaliation for the Arab terrorist attack on an El Al airliner at Athens airport Thursday. Greek authorities are holding two Palestinian guerrillas who lived in Lebanon for the grenade and automatic rifle attack on the plane, which killed one Israeli passenger.

The U.N. Security Council met in urgent session Sunday night and appeared headed for a vote condemning Israel at another meeting tonight. U.S. Ambassador J.R. Wiggins told the council his government "strongly condemns the attack" and "is prepared to support prompt action by the Security Council to condemn this latest Israeli action."

In Washington, presidential assistant Walt W. Rostow reported that President Johnson considered the attack "serious and unwise." Rostow said the United States told Israel it is "a grave matter for regular

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

EXCUSES, EXCUSES FROM SKIMPY COOK

Dear Helen: When we go to Mamie's house for dinner we always come away hungry. Nowadays my husband eats a sandwich first. We take half portions there so there'll be enough left for the host.

Yet at our house, they are not "dainty" eaters. Her husband, especially, enjoys my big spread, at table.

I wouldn't mind, except for Mamie's remarks. When her husband compliments me on my cooking, she implies that people who "over-cook" are anxious, probably as a result of a deprived childhood; and "My, all that FOOD—what will you ever do with it?" (It seems to disappear.) We're made to appear a little vulgar because we provide for second helpings.

What do you do with a dame like this?—BURNED COOK

Dear Burned: You might imply that people who "undercook" are hostile, probably as a result of stinginess.

But a better way is to serve Mamie's kind of dinner next time you ask them over. I doubt you get a return invitation.—H.

Dear Helen: Isn't it funny? An 18-year-old daughter just can't wait to get an apartment of her own. But the minute she's by herself, all she aims at is getting back with someone again—a man who will provide a home, and all the confusions of family and housekeeping she left because she wanted to be "alone."—H.B.

Dear H: Yup. Strange how being alone only appeals to those who aren't.—H.

Dear Helen: Those two "popular phrases," "Generation Gap," and "Don't trust anyone over 30," have created a big stir. Yet I've found in the classroom, that when you give kids encouragement, they'll open up to adults as if there was no age difference. Perhaps two or three, out of the group of 35, are alienated, and they usually don't stay that way long. Most of my fellow teachers find this so. Those who don't, aren't teachers very long.

In many talks with young people, I've discovered they aren't much farther away from their parents than I was as a boy. But I didn't see my "communication problem" advertised in the mass media. So it didn't bother me or my parents very much. We survived our fights, and came out friends. I think today's kids will do likewise, if they don't believe all they read.—TEACHER-COUNSELOR

Dear T-C: Right! Happily, kids DON'T believe all they read, but parents often do. That's why they're running scared.—H.

P.S. If it's any consolation to gap-conscious adults, the biggest hassles in my column come not from different generations or even opposite sexes, but between embattled stay-at-home housewives, and militant working wives. Wow! Do they ever mix it up! Examples:

Dear Helen: If it weren't for those greedy working wives, more men could find good jobs to support their families, and more children would have good care at home, instead of from the neighbors. These women work to buy luxuries while their kids run wild, and their husbands to other women.—SATISFIED HOUSEWIFE

Dear Helen: No wonder men turn to career girls for affairs. These smug little housewives can't keep up with them mentally, socially, or physically. I went back to work because I couldn't stand exchanging recipes at hen parties. Besides, I'm helping put our daughter through college. It's hard, managing two lives, but also stimulating, and I think I do a good job of both.—CAREER GIRL WIFE

Negotiators Study Peace Talk Block

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP)—The negotiators from Washington and Saigon confer today on the deadlock still blocking the Vietnam peace conference and on a common front to present when the conference finally begins.

The session was the second between America's Cyrus R. Vance and South Vietnam's Pham Dang Lam since the U.S. negotiator's return from consultations last week with President Johnson and other U.S. leaders.

A meeting Saturday produced neither a new bid to break the procedural stalemate with the negotiators from North Vietnam and the National Liberation Front nor an end to the persistent differences between Washington and Saigon over tactics.

South Vietnamese diplomats made plain over the weekend that they still favor a firm stand toward their adversaries even during the present preliminary argument over table shapes and other status symbols at the proposed four-party conference.

Overeagerness to get the conference going, they said, would lead to undue concessions to North Vietnam and the Viet Cong which would prove damaging later on.

Vance reported Johnson's view that, as the President put it, the U.S. government desires substantial progress toward an honorable peace and wants "to cut out all of this dilly-dallying" about table arrangements and the like.

Amid the protracted dispute over conference procedure, the Americans and South Vietnamese have been meeting almost daily in search of a common position for the substantive negotiations.

SHOWBEAT

By DICK KLEINER
Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(N E A)—Down the stairs and into the living room swept Geraldine Page. As always a fascinating actress to watch. But in this case, the set was almost as fascinating.

The company shooting "What Ever Happened to Aunt Alice?" went on location to find the interior they wanted and found it in an old mansion in downtown Los Angeles, near where several freeways collide.

The house is an ancient structure. The owner says it's 90 years old and was moved in 1915 from its original location. If the stairs and the living room look familiar to you, you're pretty old, too.

The house was used twice, in the silent film era, once, Oliver Cromwell, the English statesman, once referred the title of king.

for a now forgotten Mabel Normand film, once in a film version of Ibsen's "Ghosts." Now it's back in front of the camera.

All the furniture is the real thing. The stained glass windows, the carved fireplace, the dust-catching knickknacks, all contribute to the general feeling of age the script requires.

This is almost the first scene in the film. Miss Page, playing a brand-new widow, is entertaining her late husband's lawyer, who tells her the expected huge estate is nonexistent. From here, Mrs. Marrable—Miss Page—begins to earn her money in a curiously macabre fashion.

Miss Page brings something special to a scene like this. She suggested a bit of business with a plate of cake that worked well. Director Lee Katzin quickly accepted the suggestion.

At lunch, in her trailer parked down the street, Miss Page ate heartily.

"I love being a villainess," she said, "but I love doing all kinds of parts. My problem is to keep from doing the same thing over and over. Now I keep being offered villainess parts—for a long time it used to be southern spinsters and then it was drunken old movie actresses."

She has, of course, managed to avoid typing, through the application of extreme selectivity. She has been equally successful in combining motherhood with her career—she and her husband, actor Rip Torn, have three preschool-age children.

"Until last summer," she says, "when I went to Arizona when my father died, I had never been away from the children overnight. And we always have dinner together—Rip is fanatical about that."

They also guard their private hours jealously. When they are not working, they seldom go out. She says they could be described as antisocial—"a cruel word, but apt"—preferring to stay together as a family as much as they can.

Katzin, the director, took pretation. A bit more than half the finished product will be Katzin's.

Propose $50 Deductible for Politics

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A plan to encourage more individuals to contribute to political campaigns by giving them a tax break apparently will get a hearing after Congress reconvenes next month.

The Committee for Economic Development Sunday proposed that the federal government give an outright credit of 50 percent against income tax on political contributions up to $50 for each taxpayer, $100 for a couple filing a joint return.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, chairman of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, says the panel will listen to the plan put forth by a business-backed research group designed to cope with the spiraling costs of major campaigns.

Without committing himself to the particular plan put forth by the committee, Mills, an Arkansas Democrat, said that "We must find a better way to finance campaigns. Some way or another there has to be a meaningful solution to these ever-increasing costs."

The senior Republican on the Ways and Means Committee, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, commented that the suggestion has merit and some version of it ought to be considered.

"I can see possible complications," Byrnes continued. "There would be problems of proof, for example. But we have to focus in on some method of financing campaigns."

The idea of a tax incentive to broaden the base of campaign financing also is favored by party chiefs outside Congress.

A spokesman for the Republican National Committee noted that Chairman Ray Bliss already is on record favoring a tax break on contributions.

Democratic Chairman Lawrence O'Brien wrote in a party publication last week in favor of changing the campaign financing laws to make small campaign contributions tax deductible.

Party leaders were less will-

Rebozo Nixon's Pal But Excluded From High-Level Planning

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — The press spokesman for President-elect Nixon reads from a list those who would attend a national security briefing, including Secretary of State-designate William P. Rogers and Secretary of Defense-designate Melvin R. Laird.

"Isn't Rebozo going to be there?" asked a reporter.

"I don't think so," replied Allen Woods, the Nixon spokesman.

There would be no surprise if Charles Gregory Rebozo, known since childhood as "Bebe," had been included at the councils.

Since 1951, Rebozo has been Nixon's companion for fishing, Bahamian relaxation, working vacations and excursions to Ti-ing to comment, without further study, on other proposals by the CED.

One clue for a presidential preference primary to be held in all states on the same date. Another is to scale down the number of delegates from the present thousands to about 550 at each convention.

"I am inclined to think that is a little extreme," Byrnes said of the proposal for a sharp cutback in the number of convention delegates.

Seats at the convention area traditional reward for faithful volunteer party workers.

The CED report also recommended that some election costs should be met by government at various levels.

It also said the "equal time" rule should be repealed to permit broadcasters to schedule political programs freely.

Both corporations and unions should be barred from using company funds or union dues for political purposes, the report said, and the present ceilings on political spending, termed obsolete and unenforceable, should be repealed.

The committee estimated more than $250 million was spent in all 1968 election campaigns, nearly double the 1952 level.

Juana, Mexico.

Nixon also has followed Rebozo's lead in buying real estate. The President-elect holds a $350,000 worth of Fisher Island in Miami Harbor, an overgrown 121 acres just south of Miami Beach which Rebozo once offered for sale at $5.75 million. Nixon also owns two undeveloped Key Biscayne lots worth $51,382, has just bought a $127,700 home two doors up the street from Rebozo's and is negotiating to buy the one in between from Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla.

Rebozo, 56, was born in Tampa, the youngest of nine children. His parents were from Havana. He's now president of Key Biscayne bank club has worked as a chicken-plucker, gas station attendant and newspaper delivery boy. He invested $25 from his paper route in a Florida lot and lost it in the depression.

In recent years Rebozo has further diversified his interests and now is associated with an all-Cuban Key Biscayne shopping center, a Key West title abstract company and other ventures.

He was introduced to Nixon in 1951 by Smathers while Nixon was looking for a spot to rest after his successful U.S. Senate campaign against Helen Gahagan Douglas.

Rebozo had become so close to the Nixons by the 1960 election day that the two men drove to Tijuana to relax while the nation went to the polls. Then Rebozo sat with Mrs. Nixon and the children in their hotel suite as the votes were counted.

After returning from Los Angeles Rebozo told a reporter that neither Mrs. Nixon nor the girls had been prepared for the possibility of their man's defeat by John F. Kennedy. That is the only recorded moment when Rebozo gave information about the Nixons.

The closest Rebozo has come since to discussing his hours with Nixon was a general comment included in an October interview with the Miami Herald. Rebozo's only interview since Nixon began running again.

"We do some fishing, some swimming and a lot of sunbathing. And we work, too. Dick takes along his briefcase and I take mine. We both like quiet surroundings, and he especially finds the atmosphere of Biscayne Bay a good place to think," he said.

"We just hit it off, I guess," Rebozo said of their friendship. "His ability to keep secrets is only one reason why a man like Dick Nixon would take such a liking to Bebe," said a Rebozo friend.

"But I think the most important reason for their friendship is that Bebe is a person without guile and without angles," the friend said. "Bebe would never ask anything for himself. He's one of the fastest check grabbers you've ever seen. He's the kind of guy who enjoys spending $100 to entertain his friends in an evening, but who would spend a whole night looking for a one-dollar bookkeeping error."

Police Probe $800,000 Brink Holdup

BOSTON (AP) — The FBI examined a key and police visited underworld hangouts today for a clue in the hijacking of some $800,000 from a Brink's armored car Saturday four blocks from the scene of the $1.2 million Brinks robbery in 1950.

Two men used a key to open the door of the parked truck, surprising a guard, Richard E. Haines, 43, of Tewksbury, who was alone in the vehicle while his two teammates took a coffee break.

Police said the robbers could not have entered the truck if inside bolts on the truck doors had been latched. None were in place, investigators said.

A key was found later at the scene of the robbery. Company officials said it was not issued by Brinks.

Felix A. Savage Jr., manager of Brink's Boston office, said "as near as I can ascertain the total (taken) will be in the area of $800,000."

An audit was started Sunday to determine how much of the loot was in cash.

The robbery was the 13th of a money express truck in eastern Massachusetts since 1950.

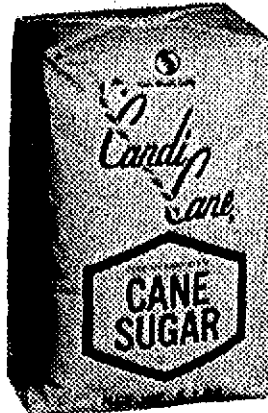

Haines told police he worked his way out of the handcuffs and walked to a nearby police station and reported the hijacking.
